

GRYPHON PRUDENTIAL FUND OF FUNDS – 30 APRIL 2017

FUND PROFILE & PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVE

The primary objective of the fund is to generate real (after-inflation) wealth for investors, at the lowest possible cost, with due cognizance of risk and in particular secular down side risk. This is achieved by consistently producing real returns and long-term capital growth through maximum exposure to equities (the asset class of choice over the long-term to protect investors against inflation) during bull markets, whilst minimising exposure to equities in secular bear markets. As such, the product is suitable for investors of all ages as it maximises return per unit of risk throughout their various life stages. The portfolio complies with the statutory investment limits set for retirement funds in South Africa (Regulation 28).

INVESTMENT POLICY & STRATEGY

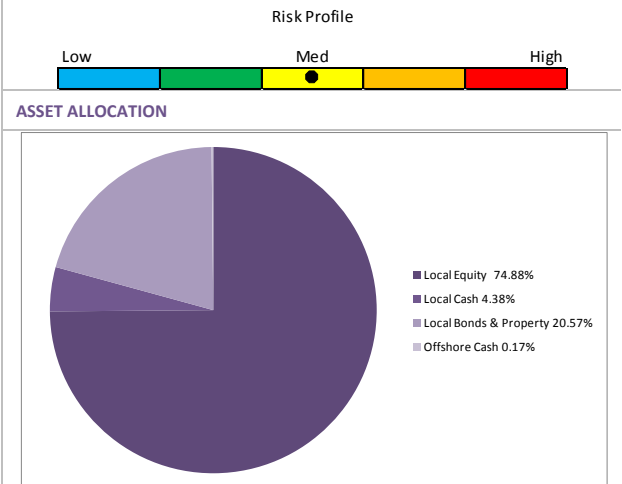

The portfolio is premised on the philosophy that most value is added with asset allocation rather than with stock selection. Stock selection is indexed and asset allocation is actively and aggressively managed to the extreme. This, coupled with our low cost focus (utilizing indexation building blocks), has the objective of achieving superior investment returns. The portfolio investment strategy is to invest in a flexible combination of the Gryphon All Share Tracker Fund, Gryphon Money Market Fund, Gryphon Global Equity Fund, offshore cash and bond/property indexed products. Funds are allocated between these alternatives based primarily on proprietary quantitative indicators, which predict the primary bull / bear market cycles in equities and the Rand currency. Short term equity volatility and secondary market cycles are generally ignored, since they are more difficult to predict and their effect on portfolio returns relatively small and short lived. The Portfolio can invest up to a 75% in equities (including international equities). Maximum foreign exposure limits as permitted by prevailing legislation (currently 25%), apply.

WHO SHOULD INVEST?

- Investors seeking long term exposure to equity market returns, but cognizance of downside risk.
- Investors who have a long-term investment horizon and a required return profile in excess of inflation and which thus necessitates exposure to equities.
- Investors lacking the time, infrastructure or resources and/or investment sophistication to choose between and subsequently monitor the performance of: various asset classes i.e. asset allocation; and/or individual stocks i.e. stock selection; and/or individual asset managers i.e. manager selection.
- Investors cognizant of the effects of costs on their returns.
- Multi Asset Funds are more tax compliant and tax efficient.

The fund is particularly attractive to investors from a diversification point of view, since the unique way in which it is managed, differs significantly from its peers.

GRYPHON MARKET COMMENTARY – 30 APRIL 2017

THE PAST
INTERNATIONAL	LOCAL
Global equity markets continued the trend of positive US Dollar returns in April. MSCI Emerging Markets, up +2.6% outperformed the MSCI World index which was at +1.6%. European markets recovered as the risk of populist support reduced. U.S. earnings were strong and resulted in more cyclical sectors like IT and Consumer Discretionary outperforming. While some economic releases reflected a slight slowdown in the U.S. in Q1 of 2017, these have generally been interpreted as only temporary. While commodity prices therefore have paused recently, the expectation is for a continued recovery in the medium term.	The local market returned +3.6%, driven by large-cap, rand-hedge industrial stocks. Economic releases were generally weak; however, the large number of public holidays makes analysis of the weakness difficult. Easter was in April this year against March, in 2016, which also impacts comparative analysis. Sentiment indicators too, reflect weakness and economists are scaling down their already muted growth prospects for the year. We have for some time warned that political uncertainty will eventually translate into economic weakness. Sadly, our warnings are becoming reality.

THE FUTURE
INTERNATIONAL	LOCAL
Political tension in UK and Europe continues to ease. In the former, the Conservatives were confident enough to call for a general election mid-year, while elections in France have allayed fears of populist policies. Currency markets have reacted with the euro strengthening against the dollar. While economies are likely to benefit as result, the European Central Bank is likely to use the opportunity to reduce QE, which will impact financial markets. The oil price has come under pressure as result of increased production by shale producers in the U.S. Whether OPEC production compliance can arrest the downtrend, is not certain.	The near-term investment horizon remains clouded by the new and inexperienced team at key government institutions. With limited investment from both the private and public sector, growth prospects remained muted. Our equity market does, however, offer investors a haven of safety in a number of listed foreign domiciled and focused counters. However, caution is required in this regard, as the market's performance is not reflective of the local economy. Stable and market-oriented policies are urgently required to attract the long-term investment required to enhance our sustainable economic growth rate.

FAIS NOTICE and DISCLAIMER: This document is a minimum disclosure document. Collective Investment Schemes ("CIS") or Unit Trusts are generally medium to long term investments. The value of participatory interests (units) may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of the underlying international investments to go up or down. CIS unit prices are calculated on a net asset value ("NAV") basis, which is the total value of all assets in the portfolio including income accruals and less any permissible deductions from the portfolio. Forward pricing is used. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from Gryphon Collective Investments. A Fund-of-Funds is a portfolio that invests in other portfolios of CIS (Unit Trusts), which levy their own charges, which could result in a higher fee structure for the Fund-of-Funds. A money market portfolio is not a bank deposit account. The value of the price is on an accrual basis. The total return is made up of interest received and any gain or loss made on any particular instrument; and in most cases the return will merely have the effect of increases or decreases in the daily yield, but in the case of abnormal losses it can have an effect of reducing the capital value of the portfolio. Excessive withdrawals from the portfolio may place the portfolio under liquidity pressure; and in such circumstances a process of ring-fencing of withdrawal instructions and managed pay-outs over time may be followed. Gryphon Collective Investments reserves the right to close and reopen certain funds from time to time in order to manage them more efficiently and in accordance with mandates. The fund manager may borrow up to 10% of the market value of a portfolio to bridge insufficient liquidity. The CIS are traded at ruling prices and may engage in securities borrowing and scrip lending. Portfolio performance is based on a lump sum investment, calculated on a NAV to NAV basis and does not take any initial fees into account. Income is reinvested on an ex-distribution date. Total return performances are published. Performance figures used are on an annualised basis and are the figures as at month-end quoted against relevant benchmarks for a minimum period of one rolling year and in multiples of full years for periods longer than one year. Actual investment performance will differ based on the initial fees applicable, the actual investment date and the date of reinvestment of income. The Total Expense Ratio ("TER") is a measure that can be used by investors and advisors to determine how much of a Financial Product's underlying assets are relinquished as payment for services rendered in the administration of the Financial Product (e.g. manager fees & charges, administration fees and charges and VAT thereon, etc.). Transaction Costs ("TC") is a measure that can be used to determine the costs incurred in buying and selling the underlying assets of a Financial Product (e.g. brokerage, VAT on brokerage, securities transfer tax, etc.). TER's & TC's are expressed as a percentage of the daily NAV of the Financial Product calculated over a period of three years on an annualised basis. TC's are a necessary cost in administering the Financial Product and impacts Financial Product returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Financial Product, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER. A higher TER & TC does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER & TC imply a good return. The current TER & TC may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TER's & TC's. Gryphon Collective Investments and the portfolio manager(s) cannot guarantee the capital or return of the portfolio.
